Donate for Precision Mental Health Medicine At Last

What your Donation will do:

1. Help end mental illness stigma by uncovering the formal psychophysics norm which naturally sets normal character and divergent behavior on the same dimensional line.
2. Advance, expand and support effective mental health research.
3. Break institutional and professional barriers to newly discovered solutions.
4. Disseminate alternative research results that are just as good as mainstream research.
5. Help strengthen mental health providers' therapeutic capabilities with new tools.
6. Vulgarize effective knowledge of Mentation, Behavior and Disorders among mental health advocates and the public at large.
7. Help break decades-long gridlock in the field of Mental Health medicine between its many different players.
8. Help end speculations in psychotherapy and deliver at last precision medicine in psychology and psychiatry owing to the discovery of the Etiological roots of all psychogenic mental disorders.

Your contributions will cover a course scholarship in the new study of Neural information processing, Neural topologies and Neurodivergence through Mathematical-Physics lens. A state-of-the-art 40-hour course load with final exam and a certificate. The course will be available for free to anyone with a cognitive or neural science background. It is a $2500 course expended online with a support fascicle in print mailed to the student for further material reference. The student is accorded 30 days to complete the course once enrolled. The course prelude:

If the participant successfully passes the course, he/she will receive at no cost an 800-page Monographic Tome exposing the associated new research which includes new diagnostic techniques and therapeutic approaches in Psychopathology. The title of this Treatise: Functional Architecture of Human Mental – A reference psychophysics Treatise of Human Mentation and its Disorders. All successful students are further permanently granted participation in the gated scientific community incepted for the study, consolidation and evolution of this new psychophysics clinical framework in Psychopathology.

The content of the course represents an introduction to and training in this new Psychophysics approach to Mind and Neurodivergence, which bears a fulsome force comparable to the DSM-5, dubbed bible of psychiatry. This monographic treatise equally serves as a companion to the DSM-5 which it adjusts and corrects where appropriate, towards long-awaited delivery of precision mental health medicine.

We are seeking your direct help as an alternative to red-tape public funding in the fight against mental illness, and to broadly disseminate this strong clinical tool among Mental Health providers.

Your contribution in any amount will help imprint a major change in public mental health by galvanizing medical professionals and mental health advocates around a notable and unprecedented advance in the field.
